

User guide to ILCB 2023 Summer School Registration (step 1)

Thank you for your interest in the ILCB Summer School.

The summer school takes place at the CIRM, a charming venue set within the Calanques National Park. The CIRM information systems are somewhat outdated, however, and registration may be a slightly frustrating experience. We apologize for the inconvenience and to help make your experience as painless as possible we have designed this user guide.

The registration procedure comprises two steps and this guide covers the first step only. Once you will have completed this first step, you will receive an email confirming that your application is pending. After a few days you should receive a second email with instruction on how to complete the second step of the registration process.

In the first step of the registration process (scientific registration), you will fill in your personal data and the courses you would like to attend. In the second step, you will be able to book your meals and your accommodation at the CIRM (accommodation at the CIRM will only be granted for people not habitually residing in Marseille). Financing for meals and accommodations will be covered by the ILCB only for ILCB members and summer school teachers. Booking meals and accommodations with the CIRM is not mandatory to attend the summer school (although you still have to complete the second step of the registration process).

Scientific pre-registration STEP 1

First go the registration page at <https://conferences.cirm-math.fr/3011.html>.
Then click on the “STEP 1 - PRE-REGISTER – APPLY HERE” button.
